

Investment professionals have the ability to "beat the market" by using... These active money managers can out-and ... should out-out-the stock market in their earnings by selling in a down market or buying on growing. Thus, they become "professional players" and not just "professional investors" as investors often define themselves. But the stock market can go up or down. It can be volatile. Some investors think they can buy good stock and be bulls in the stock market. Those who invest must be bulls in both the stock market and the currency market.
