Fantasy Action RPG set in the Lands Between The world between two realities. The Land of Elrond, which is the world in the Black Mountains, is a world in which no one has seen the sun or the stars. A world in which the life has never flourished and a world in which the wildest legends exist. In the Land of Elrond, a foreign kingdom called the Boroma Empire has planted its domination in the land. The once peaceful kingdom is now headed by Emperor Kiran. With great threats looming over the village and young children vanishing without a trace, a trio of courageous young adventurers rise in response. Dawn Boy and the Fellow Travelers A stranger who has witnessed his childhood friend's disappearance. A young woman who wanted to change her fate as a slave. A young man with a mysterious past. The common theme is that the three of them "rose" together. Each of the three has different memories, but each of them was able to find their purpose in the midst of their desperate journey. The Lands Between, which is separated from the world by a magical barrier, is an unknown place in which mysteries exist. In this land, there are monsters that amaze people with their abilities. There are places in which no one has set foot, and there are many treasures. Those who know of the Lands Between are called Elders and are those who have passed through the barrier and returned safely. The worlds of Elrond and Albamos, separated by the barrier, are one world that somehow existed, and the name of the place is the Lands Between. A mysterious factor exists in the Lands Between that is to be avoided by the others on the surface. However, the vague boundaries are where a world created for adventurers, and places in which people can believe in their dreams exist. Who would you be in the Lands Between?
