have been at the parade route to see our tribute though. It had a whole lot of other marchers and bands and puppets and carriages and clowns and muskets. A whole lot of balloons and drumming and float dancing and lots of marching bands and songs. I wonder if the children even realized it was being commemorated. I hope someone at a certain celebration would point out to them that not all children were soldiers. "It is indeed possible to make a child into a soldier, but very difficult and very painful to take a soldier into a child. - George Vickers, South African activist, lecturer, and author, quoted in Diane Kidwell's book "Desert Shield: Children's Testimonies." Don't get me wrong, I'm proud to be an American, I just don't like the American military, I don't agree with their policies, I don't really believe in the whole 'freedom' bit....and really, I feel it's they who started the idea of wars without causes and that alone makes me personally disgusted. I'm just worried that the rest of the world thinks Americans are bad and we don't realize that. As a country we have a lot of problems (of course) but I
