Download night combat 2.0 0 The Ultra free update brings monsters, tools, and features designed to help you complete your game and become a battlefield master! By enabling the built-in Night Vision, you can now track both your enemies and yourself thanks to your Auto-follow feature, which lets you track your movements using cameras you find all over the battlefield. The Game makes the most of this feature, allowing you to follow your own tracks, as well as continue to use your Focus ability while making the camera follow you around, seamlessly, without the need to switch them every time! The Ultra free update also delivers a completely redesigned CFX client, which can be used to both read and write your FX card's data, allowing you to use it as a central memory system. Simply turn the card on and use the simplified interface to enter commands and read out data. This feature allows you to manage and share your FX cards' data, and create copies of your FX cards so you can easily and safely bring data with you on the go, without worrying about losing anything! In addition, a new and improved Damage Meter makes it easy to track your damage and post it to your profile. It includes an intuitive control wheel that allows you to easily enter damage numbers, tweak the visuals, even have a larger meter, and, thanks to the new Damage Sharing system, share your damage with all your friends! Night Combat 2 will also be adding a new Battle Calculator tool which allows you to quickly and easily calculate your chances of winning, and how long it'll take you to win based on the game state. With these new tools, you can now complete your gameplay like never before, and become the battlefield master! Night Combat 2: Ultra Version Update and Patch Notes.
